A delegate from your Embassy is meeting with the Director of Jordan's Public Security Department to agree on the security procedures needed for the upcoming visit of your country's Prime minister to Jordan. You have been asked to interpret at the meeting. The delegate from your embassy will start.

A: you embassy's delegate Delegate

B: Director of Jordan's PSD

A: We are worried that there might be attempts to harm the Prime Minister. // We would like to take all needed precautions to secure his visit. //

A: We would like to go through every part of your security policy concerned with the protection of VIP figures. // In addition, we will be sending some of our security officers to your department 24 hours prior to the visit. //

A: please, do not get me wrong, but that is a very important figure that is coming for a visit, and you as the director of the PSD know that we cannot leave anything to chance. All details must be studied and measures taken in advance. No improvising.//

A: But don't forget that 7 years ago, here in Jordan, there was a failed attempt to assassinate George W. Bush. // This is one thing we take into consideration when we question your security measures. //

A: One thing we don't want is a big procession. // We want the reception to be as simple as possible so it does not attract much attention. //

A: as for the visit time it will remain unrevealed until 24 hours before the arrival of the prime minister. Never the less, we expect all procedures be ready in the following few days.//

A: your work is much appreciated. We will be sending some of our officers to have a look at it tomorrow and we will really appreciate it if you take our notes into consideration. //

A: thank you.
